LETHBRIDGE SALVATION ARMY BAND TO VISIT BLAIRMORE

This coming Sunday, at 2.30 p.m., the Lethbridge Salvation Army band, under the direction of Captain Arthur Smith, will be playing for the people of Blairmore.

The band will comprise about twenty-five members, and it will be the first time this band has visited The Pass.

Captain Hewitt, of Coleman, who is in charge of the arrangements, will be pleased to comply with requests from the relatives and friends for the band to play for the sick.

A public evening service will be conducted in the Salvation Army hall at Coleman at 7.30, to which all Blairmore and Pass folk are invited. The band will be in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rhy, after a week's visit with relatives and friends in Hilderston, returned to Calgary on Monday, and left the following day for England, where Mr. Rhy has accepted a position with a firm of music publishers.

BLAIRMORE FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

The first picnic outing and fishing competition of the above club will be held on Sunday next at the North Fork, with headquarters on the north side of the river near Bob Creek.

The party will leave Blairmore around 6 a.m., and competitors will be released at 9 a.m., with orders to report at headquarters at 4 p.m., when judging is to take place and prizes distributed.

The outing is to be confined to club members and their families, who must provide themselves with refreshments. Provision will likely be made to serve hot coffee or tea on the picnic grounds.

Those intending taking in the trip are required to register, either at The Enterprise office or the Blairmore Hardware store prior to 4 p.m. Saturday, so that adequate transportation can be arranged.

It is planned to return to Blairmore about 8 or 9 o'clock.

POSTAL INSPECTOR RETIRES

Calgary's oldest postal employee in point of service, Inspector Herbert D. R. Stewart, retired on Saturday last, after 47 years of active service.

Catching his first glimpse of Calgary from a mail-baggage car 47 years ago, Mr. Stewart has led a colorful life. He missed death in the Frank Slide in the spring of 1903, because his train was an hour late. He saw Fernie burn just thirty years ago.

A case of poliomyelitis has developed near Lundbreck, the victim being Leah Blais, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Blais.

The regular weekly dance at the Crow's Nest Lake pavilion has been cancelled for tomorrow night in favor of the Coleman hockey club carnival.

MINE WAGE INTERIM REPORT FORWARDED

Following sittings at Calgary and at all bituminous coal fields in Alberta and southeastern British Columbia, including Blairmore and Fernie, the arbitration board, considering the dispute between members of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, and the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, has sent an interim report to the department of labor at Ottawa. It was learned yesterday.

The board, which has been sitting since May 23rd, consists of Mr. Justice A. A. McGillivray, chairman; Robert M. Young, representing the operators, and Robert Livett, representing the miners.

About 2,600 miners are affected by the dispute, which concerns wage and working conditions.

No further sittings will be held until advice is received from Ottawa, it was learned, though it is not unlikely that the board will continue its investigation.

MAP ISSUED OF CRANBROOK, B.C. AREA

A mile-to-the-inch geological and topographical map of the Cranbrook area, British Columbia, to accompany a report (Memoir 207) on the area issued last year, has been published by the Geological Survey Division, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa.

Located in the southeast corner of the province, and fifty miles north of the International Boundary, the 480-square mile area lies mostly west of Kootenay River in the east flank of the Purcell range between the towns of Cranbrook and Kimberley. About one and one-half miles north-west of the latter centre, and included in the map area, is Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company's Sullivan Mine, world's chief source of zinc and a leading source of lead and silver. Since 1920 to date this mine has produced well in excess of 2,000,000 tons of lead, 1,250,000 tons of zinc, and 100,000,000 fine ounces of silver, its highest recorded output of lead and zinc being in 1937, when a total of 342,000 tons of the two metals were produced.

Although all but a small percentage of the mineral production from the area has come from the Sullivan Mine, the mineral deposits of the district, according to the memoir, are many and varied, and include metalliciferous deposits, placer and lode gold deposits, and non-metallic mineral deposits.

Included in the memoir are descriptive accounts of the general structural and economic geology, and of the principle mineral occurrences, along with general suggestions for prospecting.

Copies of the memoir, and of the map, may be obtained from the Director, Mines and Geology Branch, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa.

The town council are considering a plan to oil the surface of Victoria street, in an effort to relieve the dust nuisance.

Mrs. A. E. Ferguson, accompanied by her sons Sandy and Jack, this week enjoyed a motor trip as far as Great Falls, Montana.

Commissioner W. F. W. Hancock, R.C.M.P., was a visitor to the local detachment on Wednesday, returning to Lethbridge that evening.

The Columbus Club Cardinals' summer dance in the Columbus hall tonight, with Jerry Slopek's orchestra, promises a big attendance.

What an ideal time for our premier to slam the press! All the editors are out visiting, most of them down to see his palatial home in Vancouver.

CATTLE RIVER STAMPEDE

The Cattle River stampede and sports, held on Wednesday, July 27th, were a great success, as usual. Credit is due to the bunch of Beaver Mines' farmers who have managed to firmly establish this annual event in public favor.

Weather conditions this year were just right. The soaking rains, which lasted two days previous, eliminated the dust nuisance considerably and stopped haying, so the farmers could attend without violating their consciences.

There must have been four thousand people, counting kiddies. The Pass towns contributed probably half the crowd, and people came from the Porcupines, Claresholm, Lethbridge and Cardston. The Peigan Indians from Brocket were there in hundreds, camping two nights nearby. This is their favorite stampede. The grassy bank opposite the arena, and the benchland above, where spectators can sit in their cars or on the grass slope, provide a natural grandstand.

Pipe Major James Moore gave a skit of the pipes at intervals, delighting the hearts of not only the Scotch, but a good many English and Irish, too. A yodeller, with banjo, from Calgary, yodelled in between the skits. Two cowboy clowns anticked in the rodeo arena.

There were lots of people to root for Thompson's Cardinals, who were in the football tournament, and a huge crowd stayed for the open-air dance at night. It is an ideal location, in a riverside grove, with hardwood floor.

The following Blairmore business men donated splendid prizes for the races: S. Trono, jeweler; Blairmore Hardware Co., Charles Sartoris, John Mack's Thompson's Jim Smith and others.

Officials: Pete LeGrandere, arena director; Wadd Eddy, president; Ken McDowell, secretary.

Winners were as follows, in order, first, second and third, respectively: Horse bucking with saddle - Mike Yagos, Clark Lund, Lund-Yagos. Horse bucking, bareback - Charles Yagos, Thorval Betts.

Steer riding - Jim Robinson, Dick Jackman, George Hassett.

Calf roping - Roy Baird, Jim Wells. Wild cow milking - Dick Blackmore, V. Victor.

Best bucking horse - "Rocky Mountain," owned by Buster Truitt.

Best cowboy and cowgirl couple - J. Farnlow and Nettie Biran.

Mill open horse race - M. G. Sanford, George Lane.

Five-eighths mile open - M. Cohen, J. Cohen.

Half-mile Indian - J. Goodridge, J. Bastian.

Mill Indian - H. Firstrider, J. Bastian.

Saddle horse race - Joe Kubasek, Archie Eddy.

Schoolboys' pony race - Archie Eddy, Mickey Gilmour.

Schoolgirls' pony race - Beatrice Painter, Beattie Vroom.

Stake race - Roy Miller, Ken Hassett.

Democrat race - Phil Bigwon, Jack Crowshaw.

Best all-round saddle horse - J. Farnlow, J. B. Miller.

Men's 100-yard foot race - Wilfred Lynch, Douglas Slater, Lawrence Bourne.

Boys 12 or under - Austin Urbach, Bill White, Bob Small Legs.

Boys 9 or under - Jack Crowshaw, Frank Mitchell, Nelson Small Legs.

Women, 75 yards - Anita Fournier, Norma Chiesia.

Girls 15 or under - Norma Chiesia, Rosie Vejluta, Annie Levesque.

Girls 12 or under - Rosie Vejluta, Shirley Thomas, Vivian Slater.

Highland Fling - Mary McDougall, Sodie McDougall.

GREYHOUND BUS LINES OPEN MACLEOD DEPOT

Adding another link to their chain of terminals and depots, which extend from Winnipeg, Manitoba, to Trail, B. C., the Central Greyhound Bus Lines opened their new depot and garage at Macleod on Monday, August 1st.

Resplendent in white California stucco with black trim lines, the streamlined depot building and the garage are not only edifices of splendid craftsmanship, but buildings that enhance the reputation of the town of Macleod.

The interior of the depot itself presents a very pleasing picture, with its ceiling of buff board, and walls of Donnacanda board and moulding, done in two shades of buff, while the floors in the public space are neatly finished in Johns Manville asphalt floor tile.

In the centre is a horse shoe lunch counter, constructed of Australian gum wood, and the beautiful grain of the wood shows up well under its rich lacquer tint. The top of the counter is inlaid with red flexboard, and a chrome finish. Six booths are also provided, situated on the north side of the building, and they, in harmony with the counter, are also Australian gum wood with a lacquer finish.

Seating accommodation for the travelling public is installed on the south side of the building, with a fireplace and gas radiant in the south west corner.

Rest rooms for both ladies and gentlemen are available, and are finished in flexboard, with tile effect.

Lighting fixtures are of the indirect type, and refrigerators are installed for the care of food.

The large garage, measuring forty by eighty feet, can accommodate at one time five large buses or seven of the smaller ones.

Roy Folsom, of the Greyhound Bus staff at Calgary, supervised construction, and J. Kirk, formerly of Lethbridge, is the local superintendent. Hugh C. Craig and Albert G. Swinton have been appointed Macleod agents.

Now that they're getting rid of the bread knife, what about a substitute for the can opener?

Tickets are on sale for the Blairmore miners' annual dance, to be held in the Sartoris hall on October 14th.

Coleman hockey club's carnival will be staged at the arena Saturday and Monday evenings, August 6th and 8th.

J. H. McLean, for some years principal of the Bellevue school, has been appointed superintendent of the Holden school division.

A commercial traveller was heard remark the other day that he had fallen down on his territory. Now, pray tell us, what part of a human's anatomy is that?

A party of eleven Alpinists, including Rev. E. B. and Eddie Arrol, Donald MacPherson, F. M. Thompson and Miss Pinkney, scaled Turtle Mountain on Wednesday afternoon.

Three members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police force were recently transferred from Edmonton to points in the Lethbridge division. They are Constable E. F. J. Howell to Blairmore, Constable G. A. Rose to Macleod, and Constable J. A. Hurst to Medicine Hat.

Football - Fishburn won from Rene's Redmen; Blairmore defeated Bellevue; Fishburn won final.

ABOLISH BOND ON CANADIAN CARS

Canadian tourists visiting the United States have been granted an important concession by the customs authorities south of the border.

Now, through regulations brought into effect this month, Canadian motorists will be granted exemption from the requirement of posting a bond if they wish to remain in the United States during a period up to six months.

Official word of the new regulations giving exemption to Canadian motorists has been received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association from the Canadian Automobile Association, with which the A.M.A. is affiliated. Request for the exemption was made by a number of Canadian motor clubs.

Last year, it may be recalled, arrangements were made between the two countries, whereby tourists making brief visits across the border are permitted to return with $100 worth of articles free of duty.

Now, with the new six months' permit system in operation, the way has been opened for great development of tourist traffic between the two countries.

A local guy says he's prepared to pay $40 for a picture of an Alberta dividend.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

George S. Black, district agriculturist at Grand Prairie, has been appointed livestock promoter for the Alberta department of agriculture.

A sudden outbreak of infantile paralysis spread consternation throughout the quiet country community of Haledale, Essex, England.

The first Turkish submarine to be built in Germany since the Great War was launched at the Krupp shipyards in Kiel, in the presence of Turkish officials.

Mexican regional schools, whose scholastic educational program has invited attacks by armed rural bands, have received government authority to install arms.

Arthur Bartholomew English, the almost legendary "Arthur Ellis" who was Canada's first mystery writer, was buried in a lonely little plot in a cemetery on the slope of the mountain around which Montreal is built.

A manifesto calling upon engineers, shipbuilders and ship operators to further the use of native coal rather than imported oil in British ships was made public by the British Coal Campaign.

Forty thousand Belgium war veterans cheered their royal family at the unveiling of a memorial to the late King Albert on the banks of the River Yser. The $100,000 cost of the memorial was borne entirely by Belgium war veterans.

A cat that was at the Battle of Vimy Ridge in France, has died at Cowthill, Suffolk, England, aged 23 years. It belonged to W. Folkard, a game-keeper, whose son, then in France, found it on the battlefield and brought it home.

M. I. "Mickey" Ryan, northern transportation official, reported that freight movement to date this year over the portage between Fort Fitzgerald, Alta., and Fort Smith, N.W.T., western gateway to the North West Territories, has been the heaviest in history.

Opinion On Art

Walter Disney In The New York Times Magazine

"I have no favorite painters. I don't know anything about painting. Oh, yes, I go to exhibitions and I envy the men who can paint a figure or a landscape. But for me there must be something more in a picture than the literal rendering of an object. If that were all that is necessary a camera would be a better artist than Rembrandt."

"A man must have something to say, he must see things in a new and individual way. He must be stirred by the play of light on flesh or by the glow of the sun on trees and he must be able to put some of the emotion he feels onto his canvas. If he succeeds in doing this, then he is an artist. But, unless he can draw, as I do not believe he is equipped to express his emotion."

Pygmies Make Jumping Record

Four Inches Above Olympic Mark States Missionary From Belgian Congo

Economic depression is unknown to Central Africa pygmies, stated Rev. Howard Bigelow, on his return to Calgary after nine years in the Belgian Congo as a missionary.

The pygmies average only four feet in height. They gorge for several days on antelope and elephant meat, then subsist for a period on roots and herbs.

Members of one tribe among whom he worked were excellent high jumpers—one village record was four inches above the Olympic games mark, he said.

Natives work on roads, carrying rock nine hours daily for 60 cents a month. Disease among the natives is a serious problem, he said.

Could Have Nice Walk

Little Jewish Girl Gives Her Reason For Liking London

Over in London, says the Windsor Star, a woman recently visited a Jewish family and found there a little girl newly arrived from Germany. "Well, said the visitor, 'how do you like London?'" Replied the child, "It's so nice to be able to go for a walk without being spat on!" Even the supporters of Nazism can hardly defend this filthy defilement of children.

Joyce: "What do you think father said when I told him I was going to accept you?"

Bertie: "Give it up, old girl."

Joyce: "Well! How did you guess?"

The northern hemisphere has a warmer average temperature than the southern hemisphere.

New Type Of Grass

Grows By Alberta Farmers, It Is Said To Be Ideal For Golf Courses. A Czechoslovakian grass known by name as "Red Fescue" is providing a new export commodity for 10 farmers in the Olds district, north of Calgary.

It is described as ideal for golf course fairways and the farmers are finding a ready market for its seed in the United States.

A "running grass" it has tremendous turf holding power and spreading capacity. It is also a tenacious climber, readily clinging to the side of embankments.

Originally it was brought into Canada from Czechoslovakia by the Dominion department of agriculture in the hopes it might bolster forage crops. It was not altogether successful for this purpose but it was found the "running habits" made it a most suitable golf course grass. "Red Fescue" is classed as "medium" in texture.

Some of the farmers have made sales of the seed direct to United States golf clubs while others have sold indirectly through dealers.

Empire Unity

Chamberlain Says Empire Should Not Fall Out In Foreign Affairs. An appeal for empire unity on foreign affairs was voiced by Prime Minister Chamberlain at the annual meeting at London of the Empire Parliamentary Association.

Attended by leaders of the opposition parties, the meeting was presided over by Capt. Edward Alagoner Fitzroy, speaker of the House of Commons.

"In these days, not entirely by our will or consent," Chamberlain said, "foreign affairs take up the greatest part of our time and attention."

"Well, whatever may be our views about foreign affairs, one thing we shall all agree about, and that is that it is most desirable that the empire should not fall out about foreign affairs."

"As far as possible we should present a united front to the rest of the world, for in that way we are likely to exercise a far greater influence than if it were thought that there was not harmony among us."

NO RIVAL FOR HOWARD HUGHES

While Howard Hughes sped around the world on a record-breaking flight, this barkentine, Cap Pilar, rested up in New York on the last leg of a trip around the globe, begun in London in September, 1936. The ship has travelled more than 35,000 miles across the water since it left London. It carries Capt. Adrian Seligman, 28, his bride and a crew of 24 adventure-loving Englishmen.

Fate Of Motherland

Island Sinking Into The Sea At Rate Of One Inch In Five Years

In the last week, scientists have pronounced a fearful fate upon Britain. The famous Isle is sinking into the sea at the rate of one inch in five years. In the last 400 years, the island has sunk eight feet.

The public has evinced small interest in the ultimate fate of the motherland, yet within the next hundred years it is expected that Britain's bridges will have to be raised. The wall of the embankment along the Thames will be so high that pedestrians will not be able to see the river.

Among the victims of the sea, already recorded, are the fortified city of old Winchester, which was a busy port in the 13th century but which now lies seven miles out in the channel and the two Dunwiches, in East Anglia, both of which are submerged off the Norfolk coast.

Big Game Hunter

Montreal Business Man Returning To Canada After Visit To Africa

Harry Snyder, Montreal business man and big game hunter, is returning to Canada after shooting a world record elephant and photographing the first African giraffe ever reported by a white man.

Mr. Snyder sailed for New York with a large number of museum specimens, almost 16,000 feet of motion picture film, hundreds of still pictures and a conviction he should have taken with him to Kenya the elderdown sleeping robe that kept him warm in Arctic Canada.

Mr. Snyder was at Eldorado, North West Territories, last summer when he announced his intention of going to Africa. For years he had hunted and photographed big game west of the Athabasca and Mackenzie rivers and on the northern slopes of the Rockies.

Young Husband: "My wife seems to make everything an excuse for asking for money. Do wives ever lose the habit?"

Experienced Friend: "Of course they do, old man. Before long she'll ask for it without any excuse at all."

Hard-hearted Butcher: "No, sir! No excuses. I wouldn't cash a cheque for my own brother."

Customer: "Well, of course, you know your family better than I do."

Oldest Steamer

Built On The Clyde 84 Years Ago, And Still In Service

Melbourne, Australia, is the port of registry for the oldest steamer in the British Empire—the Edina, 171 feet long and 26 feet six inches wide, staunchly built of Lowmoor iron by Barclay, Curle, & Co. on the Clyde 84 years ago. She has survived three strandings and as many collisions, in each of which she sank the other vessel. She is now an excursion steamer on Port Phillip Bay.

Originally equipped with sails and steam, she ran between Leith and Hull and later carried stores and horses to the Crimea. Florence Nightingale was possibly among her passengers. She was in turn a Mediterranean "fruiter" and a North Sea trader.

During the American Civil War she several times ran the blockade, returning with cotton for Lancashire looms.—Manchester Guardian.

Racial Doctrine

Catholic Churches Describe It As A New Type Of Idolatry

Parish bulletins distributed in all Catholic churches in Rome assailed the new Fascist racial doctrine as "a new type of idolatry."

Referring to the racial theories enunciated by a group of Fascist professors recently, the bulletin said: "The church desires the faithful to be informed of a new type of idolatry threatening to bring Europe to the extreme limit of apostasy and barbarism."

"For Christians a man has worth not only because he is big, blond, strong and handsome but by the nobility of his soul."

"The new religion can only sow hatred, war and persecution."

At Royal Luncheon

George Tuffe, of Niagara Falls, Ont., made an unexpected speech at a civic luncheon in Edinburgh in honor of the Duchess of Kent, to which more than 120 touring Canadian schoolboys had a surprise invitation.

Tuffe, replying to the toast to the Canadian boys, said: "I am at a loss for words, but we will always look back to this occasion as one of the greatest events of our lives."

The Antarctic region is about 30 degrees colder than the Arctic region.

"If you won't marry me, I'll throw myself in front of the six o'clock train!"

"Give me a couple of hours to think it over—there's another train at eight!"

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 7

RUTH: ADVENTUROUS FAITH

Golden text: Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God. Ruth 1:16.

Lesson: Book of Ruth.

Devotional reading: Psalm 41:8.

Explanations And Comments

A Foreigner in Moab, Ruth 1:1-5. During a severe famine in Judea, Naomi left Bethlehem with her husband and two sons and settled in Moab. There the sons married Moabitesses, Ruth and Orpah, and there father and sons died, leaving Naomi the sole survivor of her family, for her daughters-in-law were to her foreigners. She determined to return to Bethlehem, although she knew that she would suffer poverty and loneliness in her native land. She knew, moreover, that foreigners were not welcomed there, and it would be far from pleasant for her daughters-in-law to go there with her.

At the Parting of the Ways, 1:7-14. In the eastern lands (nearly all day take place in the home, and Ruth and Orpah carried out the usual duties of the house, accompanied by Naomi a short distance on her way. When Naomi thought they had gone far enough to leave her, she turned and asked them to go with her. She bade each return to her own mother's house, and a husband in her own land. "Jehovah deal kindly with you," as you have dealt with me, she said. "And she blessed them, and they went, and she vowed her realization of their devotion to her and her sons. She kissed them, and they wept. When the young women both insisted they would return with her, she reminded them that she could not hope to secure husbands in her land. Orpah yielded, and turned back.

Addressing Ruth, 1:15-18. Naomi tried again to persuade Ruth to return, but Ruth was steadfastly determined to go with Naomi. Her plea and promise to Naomi have become famous: "Entreat me not to leave thee, to quit thee from following after thee, for whither thou goest I will go, and where thou lodgest I will lodge. Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God." And the climax is reached when she declares, "Where thou diest will I die, and there will I be buried," for to an Oriental of that time to be buried in a strange land was as abhorrent as it is for the Chinese to-day.

"Jehovah do so to me, and more so," said Ruth, "as thou sayest and doest," was Ruth's conclusion.

Better Left Alone

It seems to take some people a long time to learn that it pays to do their purchasing at a reputable store, a store which will be open for business tomorrow and next week and so on.

Toronto has been having experience with salesmen who go from door to door selling rugs, and these rugs were represented as being exceptional bargains in that they were the property of people who were "leaving the city," "selling out" or "moving into a much smaller house."

One victim purchased a so-called "genuine inland broadloom." It was first offered for $75, but not sold until the price had been beaten down to $20 at which point the purchaser was certain the bargain was real. Examination by experts revealed that the rug was made of inferior jute and was of little value at any price.

The stores in your own community are not going to fool you because they want you back again, but the man who sells at the door is making just one call and he knows he will be doing business with you again.—Peterborough Examiner.

Payment For Wet Weather

Fund Created For Building Industry In Great Britain

The agreement for payment for "wet time" has been approved at a special meeting in London recently of the National Joint Council for the Building Industry of Great Britain. The agreement provides for the creation of a £2,000,000 fund into which craftsmen will pay sixpence per week, and apprentices and other juniors twopence half-penny per week. The employers will double each contribution. When, owing to unfavorable weather, the operatives are unable to work, they will receive 50 per cent. of their wages. The arrangement is to come into active operation a year after the payments into the fund begin.

An Unusual Accident

Baseball Strikes Boy's Hand And Severs Index Finger

Young Thomas Brady lost a finger while watching a baseball game at Kirkland Lake, Ont. With some chums he had been sitting on top of an iron fence when he decided to jump down. A fly ball was coming towards him as he put his hand down on top of the fence to let himself down. The ball landed squarely on the hand, completely severing the index finger.

Idea Did Not Work

Scheme To Investigate Loch Ness Sea Monster Was Not Popular

Sad is the news from Glasgow, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. It appears that the effort of a thrifty and scientifically-minded Scot to incorporate the Loch Ness sea monster is doomed to failure.

The sea serpent of Loch Ness, it will be recalled, has been what the country correspondent would call "a no-account" in his class. "A sea serpent is a come-and-go sort of fellow, good for only a single summer's flurry. But the chap up in the shadow of the Highlands has been on the job these three or four seasons. He has been on other things Scottish, he is enduring."

It was, no doubt, the persistence of the monster which led one Capt. D. J. Munro, a seafaring man of years and discretion (one is told he went to sea in 1850 at the age of 11), and being a Scot, a person of unquestioned probity, to evolve the incorporation plan.

He proposed a systematic three-month observation of Loch Ness by responsible persons, himself included, armed with cameras, range finders, echo sounders and other instruments. Doubtless the equipment would likewise include a bit of salt to be put on the monster's tail by some intrepid truth-seeker. The results of the observation were to be submitted to a committee of eminent scientists, which would decide once and for all whether the Loch Ness monster is or isn't.

Capt. Munro sought 1,500 pounds to finance the summer's search. A truth-loving public was invited to buy one-shilling shares in a limited liability company.

But it appeared that the public does not love 1,500 pounds' worth of truth. Only 50 pounds have been forthcoming, far too little to do a thorough Scottish job of truth-seeking by the banks and brags of Loch Ness.

The captain is discouraged, and ready to give up his scheme to apply the scientific yardstick. But perhaps the intrepid seekers hard by Loch Ness would just as soon keep the mystery green. And, maybe, the whole incident proves once more that, to give metaphor a geographical journey, the Scots are from Missouri.

Miscalculated The Date

Michigan Man Had Tombstone Marked But Did Not Die

Willard Hyatt, 64, Burlington, Mich., bargained with death in good faith, but not.

It started back in 1919 when Hyatt decided that Arlo Mumaw, monument manufacturer at nearby Marshall, should make him a tombstone. Inscription on the stone should read: "Willard Hyatt—1854-1934." Hyatt was to reach his 80th birthday then and he "knew" the Grim Reaper would call for him. He had reason enough to believe that—his father and mother and his four brothers and seven sisters all died during their 80th year.

The monument was erected and Hyatt began trimming up his burying ground. Death tipped past Hyatt's home during 1924 and so far has kept right on going.

Hyatt explains that "maybe they've switched dates on me. I'll still wait."

Corrected Arithmetic

Father stopped Mabel's young man as he was leaving the house.

"You've been calling on my daughter for six months, young fellow. What are your intentions?"

"Well, sir," replied the suitor, "I hope to become an addition to your family." Father shook his head.

"Oh, no, young man. You'll have to subtract, not add."

"Yah! If you can't go in by way of Wrangell, how do you go in?"

"By Fourcree, if you want to be a fool and try it."

"What's so tough about that?"

"The weather," Jack insisted. "You don't get any warm winds from the Japanese current, once you're over the Coastal range. It's 35 and 40 below, all the way to the Stikine."

"I know that," said Olson laconically.

"But why fight the bush for 200 miles with dog team when in a few months, there'll be airplanes, or easy travel along the river and mountain trails—"

"Yah," said Olson, "and find all the claims gone."

"Or you've gobbled up the whole country through a set of dummies," the red-faced man added.

"You can figure that out for yourself," Hammond answered abruptly, and shouldering through the crowd, again moved up the street, leaving the throng muttering behind him.

But again, a block farther on, his progress was halted. This time it was a woman.

"Well, Prospector," she asked. "Can't you say hello?"

Hammond looked up into the features of a wrinkled person, valiantly battling her age with thick foundation cream, high rouge, macaroon eyes and a heavily lip-sticked mouth.

Yet it was a sprightly face, blue eyes set in crows'-feet of humor and experience; lips which life had hardened without leaving them grim.

"Well, Annie!" he exclaimed. "How are you?"

"About the same as the last time I saw you—when we made the rush together into Rouyn, in Quebec."

"That's right. Glad to see you again, Annie."

"Thanks. That goes double, Prospector."

Silence followed. For an instant Jack Hammond felt annoyed at this interruption. Then he dismissed her; it was only around the World Annie who had made every Canadian gold rush of the last twenty years. Around the World Annie, with her lore of frontier knowledge, her inevitable thickness of paint and mascara, and garish clothes, her log cabin at the edge of camp with its dance hall, illicit drinks, its screaming phonograph—

"Living here, are you, Annie?" Hammond asked at last. Around the World Annie straightened. An effluent woman, with what might be called an old-fashioned figure, she groomed a loose fold of dress, and raised a diamond-encrusted hand to restrain a wisp of bleached hair, winking with the dampness of the incessant rain. Then, with a jerk of her head, she indicated a group of dance hall girls who stood in a nearby doorway, as though they had been herded, all of them overdressed.

"Listen, Prospector," she asked, "would I be chaperoning that gang of girls if I was living here in Prince Rupert?"

"But where are you headed for?"

"She grinned, the wrinkles therefrom creating deep creases in her face enamel."

"I'm going where you're going, Sweetheart."

Hammond sighed.

"I suppose you were on this morning's boat too."

"Got on at Vancouver."

Hammond pursed his lips. He was becoming more philosophical.

"I guess I missed a lot on that boat."

"Oh, you'll catch up with it all," she leaned closer. "Just tell me this much. You're going on, to to-morrow morning's train, aren't you?"

For the first time that morning, Jack Hammond truly smiled.

"Yes, Annie," he said. "You might as well pass the word along. I guess the secret's out."

"You're right! It's out!" agreed Annie. She patted him on the shoulder.

"Well, I'll be seeing you." Then with a grandiloquent wave, she summoned her followers from the doorway.

Hammond walked on, to the sting of fine rain against his face. The smile had vanished; gloominess had taken its place. Everything had looked so different down there in Seattle, with Kay in his arms, and the secret that he had promised his partner to treasure flooding over liquor-loosened lips.

Kay—the thought of her electrified him. His brain suddenly shimmered with a thousand disconnected but glorious memories; blurs and figures from which only one emerged clearly. It was that of Kay Joyce, golden-haired Kay, with her blue eyes hypnotizing him, her soft body against his as they danced, or floating far away as all the world became vague and dreamlike. Kay light in his arms until he could see only the curve of her forehead and about a year ago. We used to live down the street from each other. Rather, at an angle—I lived by the alley."

"Childhood playmates?"

"No." A serious expression had come into the young man's eyes. "She'd never have anything to do with me."

"I don't quite understand."

"Her father was the big banker. My father was a switchman, out of work most of the time. My mother took in washing."

"Joe let a note for me. Gone north—guess you know that. He's travelling light, without many supplies. Afraid somebody will jump our claims. Wants me to follow as soon as I can with a couple of dog teams and a complete outfit. That newspaper stuff—"

"No," Hammond put out his hand, holding it a few feet above the floor. "I've been crazy about her since I was that high. Kay Joyce. Her father used to be president of the Sunnyside Bank and Trust. He died about a year ago. We used to live down the street from each other. Rather, at an angle—I lived by the alley."

"Childhood playmates?"

"No." A serious expression had come into the young man's eyes. "She'd never have anything to do with me."

"I don't quite understand."

"Her father was the big banker. My father was a switchman, out of work most of the time. My mother took in washing."

Paris Sending Carefully Chosen Library Of French Books

Twelve-year-old Princess Elizabeth, who did not accompany her parents on their visit to France, will be presented by the city of Paris with a carefully chosen library of French books considered ideal reading for a growing girl.

It will be the first time Paris has ever bestowed such a gift on a royal child. Many of the great French classics were automatically ruled out in view of their inappropriateness for a girl of Elizabeth's age. On the other hand it was decided to avoid giving her a collection of children's books of doubtful permanent literary merit.

The books finally chosen, it was explained, may be divided into two groups—one appropriate for a princess from her 18th to her 18th year, the other more suitable for reading in later years.

The 20 books will furnish a permanent library on ancient and modern French culture.

Increase Colonial Troops

France Strengthening Her Armed Forces in Northern Africa

France is following the advice of one of her Great War generals by strengthening her armed forces with troops from the colonies—the "black reservoir" of man power.

General Charles Marie Emmanuel Magin, commander of French colonial troops in the Great War, urged that a standing army of 1,500,000 men be kept in the colonies ready for action anywhere in France's world-wide empire.

Mangin, who died in 1925, sang the praises of the "black reservoir," but the French general staff turned a deaf ear to his plea until Edouard Daladier became Premier, 13 years after the general's death. Until this spring France's colonial army, which does not include her troops in North Africa, totalled only 73,000 men. One of Daladier's first acts was to call for the recruiting of 60,000 additional troops.

Industry sources said that was only a beginning, that colonial troops alone soon would total 160,000. That still was far from Mangin's dream, but the new colonial levies already have raised the totals of France's armed forces to between 900,000 and 1,000,000 men. The new troops are being enlisted in French West Africa, French Equatorial Africa and Indochina. The new African troops from below the Sahara will be an important item in the event of trouble with Italy.

The War Debt

Britain's Obligations To United States Open For Consideration

The Earl of Stanhope told the house of lords that the situation of Great Britain's war debt to the United States "is left open for consideration at the moment both governments felt likely to arrive at a solution satisfactory to each."

Lord Stanhope, government leader in the house of lords, declared: "It may be well to contradict suggestions sometimes made that His Majesty's government fall to recognize the great importance of this question or that the debt has been repudiated."

He spoke after Viscount Samuel, Liberal, suggested the United States might be willing to pare the debt because of the British government's rearmament program "which is intended to safeguard the peace of the whole world."

Enjoy Seeing Trains Arrive

People In City And Country Are Very Much Alike

Many pictures and stories concerning new streamlined trains inaugurated on many railroads indicate that these trains are reviving a good old American custom, according to the Bloomington, Ill., Pantagraph.

In the early days inhabitants of small towns used to rush down to the "depot" to see the train come in. Stories and films from Hollywood now depict that as still one of the customary actions. But these streamliners, it seems, have attracted attention and been the cause of crowds collecting at the "depot" in some of the largest American cities. After all, these come in or go out. After all, these are just like the country folks, only more of them in a given area. They still like to watch the trains go by, just as their forebears used to do.

A Noteworthy Fact

"Democracy" says Thomas Mann, "is nothing but the political name for the question which Christianity brought into the world as religion." It is a noteworthy fact that most of the countries which discard democracy eventually discard Christianity.

Lord Tweedsmuir says the best answer to the folly of dictatorship is laughter. As long as you remember to laugh before you get your dictator.

Creative Music For Children

New Idea For Schools Is Explained By Teacher

Creative music, played on home-made glass instruments—a xylophone is eventually planned—drew aesthetic sighs of pleasure from a group of girl students.

"It's a new wrinkle in school music," explained Mrs. Carl S. Sullivan, the teacher, as she surveyed the results obtained by her class of girls at the Young Women's Christian Association in Elmira, N.Y.

The girls stepped up to a table lined with glass tumblers filled with varying amounts of water. They tapped the sides with the spoons and the result was a clearly defined rendition of "Three Blind Mice."

"Even unmusical children take pleasure in learning the scale when tumblers represent notes," she cried.

The music makers, she said, were constructing a xylophone from bars of plate glass, which was "a very difficult task" since the ring of glass varies unaccountably—regardless of length.

Emphasizing the importance of music in character building, Mrs. Sullivan recalled the advice of Walter Damrosch, noted symphonic conductor.

"Give a child a horn to blow and he'll never carry a gun."

Aid To Fishermen

Rehabilitation Work In Southern Alberta Results In Secondary Industry

Farm rehabilitation work undertaken by P.F.R.A. in the Rolling Hills district of southern Alberta has made possible a secondary industry—fishing.

During the past winter, several carloads of whitefish were taken from Lake Newell and shipped as far as New York for sale, P.F.R.A. officials said.

The Rolling Hills irrigation scheme was in existence before the advent of the farm rehabilitation program but repairs and improvements were effected through P.F.R.A. work.

When the level of the water in Lake Newell was raised, it was stocked with fish. Last winter fishing on a commercial basis was resumed with the result that several carloads were shipped out of Alberta for eastern American ports.

Royal Dinner In Paris Was Something To Marvel At

The ten best French chefs combined their culinary skill to fete King George and Queen Elizabeth. The result was something to marvel at.

The gastronomic highlight of the three-day royal visit of state, served in the brilliant Hall of Mirrors of Louis XIV, made every French restaurant and gourmet sigh with envy.

The experts burned with shame, too. The royal program allowed only 45 minutes for the super-meal, and to do it justice, they said, would take at least three hours.

The vegetables were grown specially out of season at Limoges and flown to Versailles in two planes. Table baskets containing cakes were made of wafers of straw of sugar tied with tulle ribbons in the French and British colors.

Famous Toy Maker

Man Who Created The Teddy Bear Dies In New York

Morris Michtom, 65, Russian immigrant on dog maker, whose teddy bear was the childhood joy of millions of Canadians and Americans, died recently in New York.

A pioneer in the North American doll industry, Michtom was chairman of the board of the Ideal Novelty and Toy Company, which he founded in 1903, 14 years after he came to New York from Russia, a penniless immigrant.

When he started his business, the teddy bear, his first creation, became an immediate success. He made one of the first unbreakable dolls, then revolutionized the trade with "children" that blinked their eyes.

The Tin Can Era

Housewives are busier these days—at least in the use of can openers.

A board of public works in Los Angeles reports that tin can collections now total 150 truckloads a day, as against only half that amount in 1931.

Planned Health Policy

New Proposals For National Health Insurance In Britain

Revolutionary changes in the general medical services of the United Kingdom have been drafted and approved in principle by the British Medical Association, and legislation to implement the recommendations will be introduced at the next session of parliament.

Main principles of the scheme, which contemplates a new national organization would provide for:

1. A system of medical service directed to the achievement of positive health and prevention of disease, no less than to the relief of sickness.

2. The right of every individual to nominate a family doctor of his own choice.

3. Specialist, laboratory service and institutional care made available to all through the family doctor.

4. Co-ordination of all medical service on the lines of a planned health policy.

The proposed scheme, he said, would be operated through a central controlling body for the whole country which would be independent but representative of the medical profession. Local auxiliary bodies would be created in selected centres.

Apart from those entitled to national health insurance, approximately 20,000,000 members of the population would be embraced in the new proposal and quality for medical services they never enjoyed before.

Letter Saved His Life

Written By Lord Baden Powell To Scout In Hospital

Edie Hall, who was formerly commissioner of Boy Scouts in America, tells of an incident a few years ago when one of his scouts lost a leg in an accident. "He was slowly dying in hospital through sheer lack of interest," he said. "Then Lord Baden Powell, to whom I had written, sent a letter to him. Everything changed. He fought and lived!" This letter is now framed in the Scout headquarters at Albany, New York.

The letter, which is a copy of a letter which was sent by the scout to Lord Baden-Powell, wishing him a speedy recovery from his recent illness. His letter to the scout in New York City, the copy of a letter and the hospital authorities, was undoubtedly the turning point in the boy's fight for life.

SOCIAL CREDIT AT "DEAD END"

Edmonton, Aug. 4.—The simple statement will have to be made shortly, by the government, and the forecast can be given now—

Social Credit, as outlined and as promised to the people of Alberta in the campaign of 1935 is finished.

There will be no economic order in Alberta, designed by any provincial government.

There can be no provincial control of money or credit.

"Basic dividends" will not be paid.

The big problem facing the provincial administration at the present moment is not a continued campaign of legislation which will be disallowed or beaten by the courts, but the question of how to tell the people of the province that "it can't be done."

The ballots answered. The last phase of the picture was the Saskatchewan election.

Leading up to that election, and depending upon that verdict, was the Powell-Douglas program. It was a campaign of violent legislation against the existing order—against banks, mortgage companies and newspapers. The legislation failed in both Canadian and Imperial courts, but the sponsors—Powell and Douglas—were not worried about that.

They expected unfavorable court decisions, and their campaign was not based completely on the hope of successful legislation.

Their plan was to create a favorable public opinion across the country by these legislative acts, and they received their answer, deadly and definite, from the Saskatchewan ballot boxes.

Before the Saskatchewan election, and while the last session of the Legislature was still in progress, L. D. Byrne, Social Credit technician, told a caucus of members in Edmonton, bluntly and frankly, that no Social Credit plan could succeed in Alberta alone. "He said the movement and the whole philosophy would need support and help from other provinces."

It was with that benediction, and in the hope that the Alberta quarrel with courts and federal parliament had bolstered the Alberta case, that the Alberta government "invaded" the neighboring province, looking for that support and help.

Manitoba was to be next, and there were, even wild hopes that Quebec might become interested.

But the march ended in the first engagement.

There followed the Edmonton caucus. It was not called for any specific reason, but the government had promised, at the last session of the House, to call a midsummer meeting of members. It was delayed until after the Saskatchewan battle, while ministers and many private members campaigned in the adjoining province.

Members came to Edmonton but accomplished nothing, left for their constituencies again with the firm belief that the big show was over.

—Calgary Albertan.

Since the above appeared in The Albertan, Mr. Aberhart is reported to have branded the statements as "false and without foundation."

Ask some of those who have recently been notified of the assessment of their cars and trucks for extra taxes what they think of our Social Credit government.

NEWS FROM EDMONTON

(By T. R. Windsor)

Edmonton, Aug. 4.—Alberta's political sea was so quiet last week that experienced observers were standing ready for momentous developments, in the firm belief that the calm, as usual, was preceding a storm which might reach a force greater than any the province's ship of state has experienced before.

There were distant rumblings, and as the week ended and this one began, the rumblings seemed to be growing steadily louder. Observers realized that the storm signals might be a false alarm, but they were ready for developments anyway. Meantime, they were watching closely the actions—and the inactions—of Premier William Aberhart.

Some M.L.A.'s, visiting the capital were reported to be confident that the new scrip scheme, through the use of "tax remission slips," would be ready for inauguration within the next month. But other members of the House—and most of them were those who in the past have been among the quickest to sense cabinet strife and incompetencies—were reported to be growing increasingly angry and steadily more fearful for their political future, because of the lack of results which had been promised from the Social Credit board and from L. D. Byrne, the high-priced "technician" sent here from London by Major C. H. Douglas.

Although believed in all official quarters to be without political significance, one of the next important and important developments of the past month at the capital was the sabotage of the provincial government power plant behind the legislative buildings last week. From the distance of Port Alberni, B.C., where he had heard about it, Minister of Public Works W. A. Fallow said that the saboteur who poured sand into all the generating units in the plant, and who attacked them with a sledge, must have been "a lunatic or a fanatic," but even Mr. Fallow did not blame political opponents of the government.

In similar attacks on public works department property on other nights, some large windows in the main legislative building were smashed, and an invader was frightened away as he seemed about to wreck road-building machinery, after breaking into a government garage. So the government has installed a searchlight on the roof of the main building and its beam sweeps the grounds right down to the river bank.

In what is described as its most successful gathering since the party was organized, the C.C.F. held its national convention here during the week, delegates being present from all over Canada.

Some significant and important actions were taken and some clear-cut constructive—even though revolutionary—in a decree—resolutions were adopted. Perhaps the most practical and commonsense statement made by any delegate at the convention was that made by J. S. Woodsworth, national leader, when he declared it would require more than "wishful thinking" to establish Socialism in Canada. That is true of all reforms, commentators were saying, and one prominent citizen, not a C.C.F. supporter, said, "What we need is leaders with their heads above party politics and their feet firmly planted on solid fact and practical progress."

A new platform for the party was adopted, with the main plank the socialization of essential industries and services. The provincial platform deals with education, the civil service, public health, defense of democracy, co-operatives, taxation and debts.

Unlike the present Alberta government and the declarations made by Premier Aberhart before he gained power at the polls, the C.C.F. recognized clearly and honestly the fact that the powers of the provinces are limited, but that there is a large enough field where action may be taken within the constitution to help forward the establishment of a co-operative commonwealth in the Dominion.

There were distant rumblings, and as the week ended and this one began, the rumblings seemed to be growing steadily louder. Observers realized that the storm signals might be a false alarm, but they were ready for developments anyway. Although believed in all official quarters to be without political significance, one of the next important and important developments of the past month at the capital was the sabotage of the provincial government power plant behind the legislative buildings last week. From the distance of Port Alberni, B.C., where he had heard about it, Minister of Public Works W. A. Fallow said that the saboteur who poured sand into all the generating units in the plant, and who attacked them with a sledge, must have been "a lunatic or a fanatic," but even Mr. Fallow did not blame political opponents of the government.

In similar attacks on public works department property on other nights, some large windows in the main legislative building were smashed, and an invader was frightened away as he seemed about to wreck road-building machinery, after breaking into a government garage. So the government has installed a searchlight on the roof of the main building and its beam sweeps the grounds right down to the river bank.

In what is described as its most successful gathering since the party was organized, the C.C.F. held its national convention here during the week, delegates being present from all over Canada.

Some significant and important actions were taken and some clear-cut constructive—even though revolutionary—in a decree—resolutions were adopted. Perhaps the most practical and commonsense statement made by any delegate at the convention was that made by J. S. Woodsworth, national leader, when he declared it would require more than "wishful thinking" to establish Socialism in Canada. That is true of all reforms, commentators were saying, and one prominent citizen, not a C.C.F. supporter, said, "What we need is leaders with their heads above party politics and their feet firmly planted on solid fact and practical progress."

A new platform for the party was adopted, with the main plank the socialization of essential industries and services. The provincial platform deals with education, the civil service, public health, defense of democracy, co-operatives, taxation and debts.

Unlike the present Alberta government and the declarations made by Premier Aberhart before he gained power at the polls, the C.C.F. recognized clearly and honestly the fact that the powers of the provinces are limited, but that there is a large enough field where action may be taken within the constitution to help forward the establishment of a co-operative commonwealth in the Dominion.

Robert Hays and family returned last week end from a motor vacation trip that carried them as far as Vancouver. At the latter place they met Mr. and Mrs. B. Seyen, former residents of Blairmore, who now operate a tourist camp near the heart of the Kootenays.

W. Koetge, who for the past two or three years has operated a set of tourist cabins at Maple Leaf, has acquired the Blairmore tourist camp, and is busy making improvements to same. We understand that, in addition to the eight or ten cabins on the grounds at present, several new ones are to be erected, and that all will be brought up to a high standard.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
SUMMER CLOUDS AND SKIES

Clouds help your outdoor pictures. Use a color filter to record them more effectively.

SUMMER is the outdoor season, and one of the season's chief picture charms is its wonderfully rich blue skies against which cloud masses stand out in magnificent fullness and contrast. Given two pictures of identical subjects in which the sky appears, it's a safe wager that your attention will be held by the one effectively showing the clouds against a gray sky and not the one with the unnatural and unattractive flat, white firmament.

Here is the way to picture clouds and skies as your eye sees them: load your camera with chrome type or panchromatic film, and slip a yellow color-filter on your lens. The diagram below shows how a yellow filter works—it preserves the sky tone, recording blue in the corresponding shade of gray instead of white. Thus, the clouds and sky are more dramatically recorded, and much is added to the appeal of your picture.

Summer clouds and skies are pictorial studies in themselves. Try picturing clouds alone—the different types of cirrus and cumulus; fair-day clouds and stormy-weather clouds. Use the sky and clouds as background for your pictures of people. Work them into your landscape views. They give your pictures reality, and a warm, summery feel. Use your filter for all such pictures, increasing exposure according to the instructions that come with the filter or with the film you use.

Such practice pays rich snapshot dividends.

John van Guilder.

Color filters are traffic cops. A yellow filter (K-1 or K-2) stops part of the blue light, so that in the print, blue shows up as gray. Filters come in several colors, but a yellow K-1 or K-2 is what you want for general use.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

The dance staged in the hall on Friday night by the Alberta Ranch Boys' orchestra was a huge success. On that night all roads led to Cowley.

The Ladies' Aid of the United church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Latta on Thursday afternoon, with an attendance of sixteen ladies. At this meeting, arrangements were made to have a fresh coat of paint put on the church. Gordon Swart and Lloyd Morrison have been engaged to do the work.

While chasing a calf out of a field, little Shirley Coates became entangled in a wire fence, receiving several bad cuts and making it necessary to rush her to a doctor at Pincher Creek, where she received treatment. The wounds are now healing nicely.

Miss Edith Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Halton, Miss Nora Mansfield, Seth Halton and John Frey, of Pincher Creek, took a holiday motor trip over the Logan Pass highway the latter part of the week.

Miss Marion Morrison is on a three-weeks' camping trip with Regals in the Gap.

A case of infantile paralysis at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Blais, of Lundbreck, is creating considerable anxiety in this district, several persons have been exposed to the disease.

Encephalomyelitis, the disease that has caused the death of thousands of horses in Saskatchewan, and has spread into Alberta, is now in this district, with a few farmers reporting animals afflicted.

Dr. Johnson, of Calgary, was renewing acquaintances here on Saturday.

Cutting of fall wheat is now in full swing here.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Murphy were visitors to Waterton Park on Wednesday.

Mrs. Colvin and daughter Joan, of Kimberley, are paying an extended visit with Mrs. C. Latta, Mrs. Colvin's mother.

Miss Clare Bundy has gone to Victoria to visit friends.

Mr. Allan Hamilton and son Tom arrived from Drumheller yesterday, and left today to continue their brief holiday outing by motor. Mr. Hamilton, one time member of the Blaimore town council, and who served several terms as member of our Board of School Trustees, is a present member of the council of the City of Drumheller.

CAMERA AT THE CIRCUS

A ferris-wheel angle shot of your crowd is just one picture opportunity among scores you will find at the circus or street carnival. Take the camera along!

WHEN you go to the circus or carnival, by all means go early and take your camera along. There is endless variety of new, interesting snapshot material—and you'll actually see more, and enjoy yourself more, if there's a camera in your hand.

On the midway, you can picture side-show barkers, flamboyant tent signs, gazing people who are visiting a circus for the first time, wide-eyed youngsters munching popcorn or quaffing pink lemonade, gaudy displays of prizes at amusement booths, and scores of other amusing details.

Wandering about the lot, you will be able to picture interesting details of circus equipment, and perhaps novel sidelights of circus life—family wash strung out between wagons, mending of costumes and equipment, feeding and grooming of work stock. Be friendly, don't annoy the circus folk, and they will treat you courteously.

Pictures of performers and animals should be obtained during the circus parade, as you may not be allowed to take your camera inside the big tent. The light inside is usually too poor for good snapshots except with ultra speed lenses and film. But there is ample opportunity outside to keep the camera busy, and you can come away with enough good shots to fill several pages in an album. Try it just once, and you'll never be without your camera when the circus comes to town.

SUMMER PICTURE STORIES

In picturing summer romances, keep the romance! Don't let your subjects pose stiffly or smile at the camera!

IT'S a camera axiom that every picture should tell a story. Will you remember that this summer when you are snapping pictures of friends and their summer activities?

Nothing is easier than to get a member of your crowd to "stand over by that bush while I snap your picture." But that sort of picture-taking doesn't produce the best kind of pictures—because such pictures don't "say" anything.

It's easy to go on a picnic with Bill and Janet Smith and get snapshots of them standing by a bush or a tree, smiling for the camera. But it's more fun, and makes better pictures, to catch Janet feeding Bill a huge slice of chocolate cake, or get Bill helping Janet over a "barbedwire fence, or get the two of them, heads close together, laughing as they set the picnic table or cloth.

Such pictures tell stories—and there are hundreds of such story-picture chances on every summer jaunt. Try your hand at picturing summer fun and summer romance (there's always plenty of it) from a "story" viewpoint. Don't let your subjects appear camera-conscious—catch them when they're busy doing something, and watch your pictures "wake up and live."

There's no need to waste film, but if it takes two or three pictures, or more, to tell a story properly—go ahead and shoot them. Film is not expensive, so don't risk missing a good picture.

BELLEVUE HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson, of Calgary, spent several days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. H. Meade.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Goodwin, accompanied by Mrs. J. Hill, left on Sunday for a trip around the Banff-Windermere highway.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Morris had as their guests for a few days Mrs. and Miss LaPort, of Medicine Hat.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hutton and boys returned over the week end from a vacation spent at Strathmore and Banff.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Warn and Hilda, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. Warn and family, left Sunday to holiday in Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Shewels and Joe returned Saturday from a vacation of two weeks' at the Pacific coast.

Miss Edith Reed returned to her home in Fernie on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Morris left Sunday to visit their daughter in Lacombe.

Miss Helen McLeod is a Cranbrook visitor.

Rev. and Mrs. R. Upton and daughters, Mavis and Anne, accompanied by Miss Freda Antrobus, of Coleman, left Monday to spend a two weeks' vacation at Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. George Coupland and Margaret, accompanied by Mr. B. Richards, of Hillcrest, were Logan Pass visitors on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Prescott and Miss May Dudley, of Hillcrest, returned Friday from a two weeks' vacation at the coast.

Miss Olive Goodwin arrived Tuesday from Vancouver to spend a holiday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Goodwin.

Miss Yvonne Harrison left Wednesday for a holiday of two weeks in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Wolstenholme and Freda left Sunday for Vancouver. They were accompanied by Miss Susie Boyle.

Mrs. E. McDonald, accompanied by Miss Erma and Mr. Earl McDonald, are Calgary visitors for a few days.

Mr. H. Barlass and Miss Dorothy left Saturday for a two weeks' vacation at the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald, who had been guests of Mrs. J. D. McDonald for the past two weeks, left Thursday for their home in San Rafael, California.

The Blaimore United church was the scene of a very quiet but pretty wedding ceremony on Monday evening at 5 o'clock, when Miss Ethel, daughter of Mr. T. and the late Mrs. Clayton, of Bellevue, became the bride of Mr. William Worobek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Worobek, of Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Atrol, B.A. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white satin, with white accessories, carrying a bouquet of mixed flowers. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place with a coronet of imitation flowers. She was attended by Misses Hilda and Pearl Sirett, with little Enid Sirett as flower girl. The groom was supported by Mr. F. Godek. The bridesmaids' dresses were of pink moire and green organdie, respectively, each wearing white accessories. The little flower girl's dress was of pale green organdie, with green hair ribbon and white shoes and socks. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's father. The happy couple are taking up residence in Bellevue, where their many friends wish them much happiness.

The Blaimore Fish and Game Protective Association will hold their first outing and competition on Sunday next. In all likelihood, the Gap or Race Horse Creek will be the scene of operations. Some splendid prizes have been subscribed, and will be on view in a local store window in a few days. The club desires sincerely to thank the business people and others who so kindly assisted in providing prizes. A list of the prizes and donors will appear in a later issue of The Enterprise.

According to a statement recently compiled, the Aberhart government now owes the people of Alberta in the neighborhood of $170,000,000. It used to be the other way about. In another two years that total will have amounted to $410,000,000. But still the poor people of Alberta are called upon to pay more and more taxes.

Retirement of Supt. A. H. L. McAllister from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police has been announced. He served with the force for 35 years.

Among fishermen recently registered at Race Horse Creek was W. L. Shera, of Lethbridge, former secretary-treasurer of the town of Blaimore.

Vanishing Wealth

Whatever may be thought of their proposal that the administration of the natural resources of the country revert to the Dominion government, the statements of the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, in their brief to the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations may well give pause for reflection and serious consideration.

Whether or not one agrees that the remedy for existing conditions lies in their principal recommendation, namely that of vesting the control of the resources in the Dominion government, the country at large owes a debt to the Federation for its timely note of alarm which was sounded when the organization drew to the Commission's attention, in no uncertain terms, the prodigality with which the resources are being dissipated for immediate gain with little or no thought for anything like commensurate measures to ensure their conservation or replacement.

One has only to read the brief to be strongly impressed with the necessity for sterner measures to ensure conservation of this great heritage if the present generation is not to be deprived of many of the advantages, economic and aesthetic, which the ownership of such resources brings and if posterity is not to be entirely stripped.

Startling Losses

That great wastage of a precious inheritance has not only been allowed in the past but is still being practised to the detriment, present and future, of the entire country, is brought home with realistic force. The evidence is writ large on the pages of the brief and the statements cannot well be refuted.

Figures quoted indicate appalling losses to the country as a result of wasteful methods of agriculture and lumbering, resulting in depletion of water supply, seasonal floodings with resultant loss of moisture when most needed, followed by soil erosion supplemented by further losses to valuable stands of timber from forest fires.

The forest area burned in Canada during 1936 totalled over three million acres, or 4,500 square miles. When added to this is the large amount of timber which is being cut down annually for the lumbering industry, the pulpwood industry, for fuel and for other purposes with comparatively no provision for replacement, one may well wonder how much longer these valuable resources will continue to be available and what the effect such continued losses are going to have on the future revenue of the Dominion, on the welfare of that basic industry—agriculture and, in general, on the happiness and prosperity of the people.

Impoverishing The Soil

"It should be remembered," very aptly says the Federation, "that repeated fires throughout large areas of Canada where the soil is thin cause its destruction and make the possibility of future crops of trees on such areas a remote one for hundreds of years to come; the enormous tracts of almost bare rock to be found in many parts of the Dominion are mute evidence of the washing or blowing away of such soil which took centuries to form and which once bore a forest of permanent revenue-producing possibilities."

Not only does the extravagant denudation of the forest resources result in a serious loss to agriculture through impoverishment of the soil, and the drying up of the water supply, but it also spells disappearance of other valuable resources and the desecration of industries upon which they are based. With forest coverage and food sources gone and running water depleted, the rapid disappearance of wild life such as the fur-bearing animals, once a source of great revenue; the wild fowl, a source of attraction for visiting and native sportsmen and the fish, also a great attraction for tourists and the basis of another of the country's industries, are but a matter of time, and for some of them, not a very long time.

"In recent years," again quoting the Federation's brief, "the plight of some of our wildlife has become desperate. This is especially true in the case of waterfowl, which, depleted by overhunting, have been reduced to very low numbers through drought in their nesting grounds on the prairies. The Eskimo curlew, Labrador duck, passenger pigeon and great auk are now totally extinct, and fear for the continued existence of several species of wildfowl, for the mallards and the moose are widely expressed."

It might also be pointed out that the chestnut, one of the most beautiful, useful and valuable trees is practically extinct in the United States and Canada and that the disappearance of the Douglas fir in 15 years and the white pine in 30 years is predicted by authorities.

What Others Say

What authorities in other countries think of our prodigality and wasteful methods may be summarized in a statement made in 1923 by Professor Troup, head of the Imperial Forestry Institute at Oxford, England, who is well conversant with protective measures adopted in his own and other European countries, when he said:

"I was frankly amazed," were many of my colleagues, at the extent to which the forest had been destroyed with little or no attempt at regeneration. Whoever may have been responsible for this state of affairs in the past, the Dominion and provincial governments cannot now plead that they have not had full warning as to what will happen if this policy continues. I am in full agreement as to the necessity for research into soil problems and silviculture in relation to logging practice to secure natural regeneration and sustained yield."

In the light of the statements made to the Royal Commission, the undisputed figures in support of the contentions made and the evidence of authorities, national and international, it would seem that something more ought to be done about it than is now being done.

Saddest Man In Tokyo

Citizens Claim Admiral Okeada Has Disappeared

Admiral Okeada, who was Prime Minister of Japan two years ago, is the saddest man in Tokyo today. In 1936 a group of Japanese, intent upon a coup d'état, entered Okeada's home and murdered the man they found there. Emperor Hirohito thereupon publicly lamented the Admiral's death. The next day the true story was unearthed—that Okeada had escaped assassination and that his brother-in-law was the one slain. Despite his good fortune, Admiral Okeada has lost caste with Japan's citizens, who insist that he should have committed hara-kari because he had disgraced the Emperor. He is disgraced in his return to Japan, thereby becoming living testimony to the fact that the Emperor had uttered an untruth in lamenting Okeada's death.

Death Of Old Timer

Mrs. Wright Was First White Child Born On B.C. Mainland

The first white child born on the mainland of British Columbia is dead. Eighty years old, Mrs. Alice Rowbottom Wright, died after failing to recover from a heart attack suffered several months ago.

It was in 1858 that Mrs. Wright was born at Sapperton, at the time a tiny settlement five miles east of West Westminster, B.C. Her birth occurred just two months after her parents arrived from England. Her father, George William Rowbottom, and mother came to British Columbia with Col. Moody and his Sappers. When she was 17 years old, she married John W. Wright and left for Las Le Hache where he kept an inn in the heart of the Cariboo gold country. In later years she was known to hundreds of prospectors for her kindness.

Score Is Even

African Bushmen

Stone Age Men Would Use Poison Arrows To Obtain Food

Unless they are allowed to use poisoned arrows to shoot game, the bushmen of the Kalahari desert, will die out from sheer starvation.

This is the contention of members of the bushmen preservation committee, on which the British government, the South African government, the Southwest Africa administration and the University of South Africa are represented. The committee was formed as a result of the interest created when a group of the "little brown people" went to Cape Town last year to pay homage at the coronation.

The trouble is that there is an international convention for the preservation of Africa's fauna and flora, one clause of which forbids the use of poison for hunting.

"If they are to be stopped from using poisoned arrows, then they must be provided with firearms. If they are not to die of starvation, and to give them firearms would be extremely inadvisable," Senator Boydell, member of the committee, declares.

Senator Boydell contends that the bushmen could not possibly use enough poison to make any real difference to the fauna of Africa, and he hopes that the committee will be able to secure a special reserve for them, where they can live as they have done for 16,000 years.

CUCUMBER RELISH

1 package Lime Jell-O
1 1/2 cups hot water
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/4 teaspoon scraped onion
2 cups drained, chopped cucumber
Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Add vinegar and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Chill. Add to cucumber. When Jell-O slightly thickened, fold in cucumber mixture. Turn into half-size individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 12 half-size molds.

Shakespeare Up-To-Date

Television Audience Heard Original Words But Saw Modern Costumes
Shakespeare's Julius Caesar was televised in a version showing the men in lounge suits, uniforms and one blazer and white flannels.

The television audience in London saw felt hats, revolvers, gas masks, skyscrapers and dugouts, but heard the original words as the bard wrote them.

"Spare a copper for a poor, out-of-work."

"Here is a shilling—call at my shop to-morrow and I will find you your 'No. 10.' The shilling will be enough—I am not greedy."

The Poultry Flock

Maintain Sanitary Conditions In Order To Obtain Best Results

Hygiene and sanitation are factors as important to the poultry flock as good stock, clean water, proper feed and range, states W. T. Scott, Head Poultryman, Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, Ont. Failure to maintain clean and sanitary surroundings is frequently the weak spot in poultry management. Cleanliness is essential, as high mortality and reduced egg production follow disease and impaired vitality. To ensure healthy surroundings remove droppings daily and scatter an absorbent such as land plaster over the dropping boards. Renew litter before it becomes too dirty, and supply clean water in clean vessels; disease may spread rapidly through the medium of dirty water or containers.

At least once a year, with a hoe and broom, scrape and sweep clean the floor and walls of the poultry house, removing dust and cobwebs, and if running water is available use the hose at high pressure. Paint roosts and supports with a good coal-tar disinfectant, full strength, and spray frequently with a solution of the same product according to the instructions of the manufacturer. The range also demands its share of precaution. Gravel or sandy loam provide the best sanitary conditions and is easily worked with a one-horse plough. All range and yards should be ploughed and cropped yearly and seeded with a quick-growing crop. Sudan grass is palatable and greatly reduces. To ensure a good supply, it is well to sow Sudan grass about six inches high before allowing the birds access to the yards or range. Ideal sanitary conditions are supplied with a two or three year range rotation; a hoed crop intervening in the three year rotation provides additional protection against parasites that flourish in contaminated soil.

Strange Water Bug

Able To Make Starch And Fat In Huge Quantities

Discovery that one small, barely-visible water animal can make, in 25 days, more starch and fat than the whole United States could eat, was described at the Marine Biological Laboratory, summer workshop of United States scientists.

The animal is chironomus, a flagellate, so termed from the fact that he swims by leashing, with fine, hair-like arms called flagella. Scientists got interested in him because, unlike virtually all other living things, he is able to make starch and fat without light. Starch and fat are two of the three essential foods. Protein is the other.

The amount chironomus can make, said Dr. S. O. Mast, of Johns Hopkins University, is theoretically prodigious. "For example," Dr. Mast wrote in his report, "in one of our experiments, which was started with a single individual, and continued 25 days, if all the individuals had been kept cultured, there would have been at the end of the experiment enough to reach a total volume of 612,000,000,000 cubic metres. The starch in this mass would have been approximately 19,000,000,000 cubic metres and the fat 6,000,000,000 cubic metres."

"This is surely," Dr. Mast says, "the most amazing supply ever known in the United States with some 70 tons of starch and 20 tons of fat."

Buddhist Monk

Treblitch-Lincoln Wants To Return To His Native Hungary

Hungarian authorities were reported weighing the demand for legal entry into his native Hungary of Ignatius Timothy Treblitch-Lincoln, the one-time international agitator and spy and now a Buddhist monk called Chao Kung, "Light of the World."

Treblitch-Lincoln, 60, wearing the simple habit of a Buddhist missionary, was somewhere in hiding. An ex-convict figure, calling herself Two-Li, garbed in a Buddhist gown and leather sandals, brought him back to the memory of Hungarian passport officials in June by interceding in his behalf and asking if he might return to his native land.

He was tired from a life of adventure, she said, and wanted to spend the rest of his days in pious contemplation at the tomb of his ancestors.

Treblitch-Lincoln in 1934 made a spectacular journey across Canada, accompanied by six nuns and four monks, all Buddhists. They had intended to establish a Buddhist monastery in Germany. But after failing from Halifax, the party was refused permission to land in England and was returned to Canada.

British Train Coming

Coronation Scot Express Will Visit United States In January

The London Midland and Scottish Railway's Coronation Scot express train which will visit the United States will be shipped from England next January, it is announced.

The train, consisting of streamlined locomotive and eight coaches, will enter the United States via Baltimore. On arrival the engine and train will be assembled in the Baltimore shops of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Before going on exhibition at the New York World's Fair at the end of April, the Coronation Scot will make a tour of American railroads embracing 38 cities and towns and covering in all 3,121 miles. During the tour, the train will travel under its own power throughout and will be manned by an L.M.S. crew.

The Coronation Scot celebrated its "first birthday" in July, having been introduced a year ago as the first streamlined train between London and Glasgow, covering 401 1/2 miles in 6 1/2 hours.

Streamlined "Coronation" type locomotives which maintain the service hold the British speed record of 114 m.p.h.

The forthcoming American tour of the train follows the successful visit of the L.M.S. Royal Scot to America in 1933, when it was inspected by over 3,000,000 people.

Keeping Tab

Germany Introduces A Family Book To Keep Records Of Families

Under a new law, which has just come into force, Germany has abolished the marriage register.

Instead, a "family book" for each family in the Reich is to be kept, which will show births, marriages and deaths and be a complete record for all the members of the family. It is hoped thus to "stimulate interest in the family, show members that they are connecting links in a long chain of generations and to awaken a feeling of responsibility for the maintenance of the family and of the German nation."

When couples marry in future, new leaves to cover their racial classification, relatives, domicile, etc., will be inserted in the "family book." Offspring of the marriage will be entered in the same pages until such time as they grow up and marry, when a new series of pages will be started for them.

The new law also applies to Germany's colonies. It is hoped that within 30 years, as children grow up and marry, exact details of every German family will be entered up.

Attacked By Wild Bees

Six Camel-Riders In India Were Stung To Death

Six Delhi, India, camel-riders of a passing caravan were stung to death by a swarm of bees in Suratgarh. According to the story of the only survivor, the caravan which had halted near the jungle, was attacked by bees shortly after the men had lit a fire to cook their food, just below the hives. The victims, who ran in all directions, were pursued by the bees, which stung them to death in half an hour. The survivor ran off, leaving the camels to take care of themselves.

Mollere was asked why in some country the king might assume the crown when 14 years old, but cannot marry until he is 18.

"Because it is more difficult to rule a wife than a kingdom," was the reply.

Another thing that slows up building is the realization that anything you build now will look queer by 1950.

Poultry Market

Surplus Of Chicken Crop To Be Shipped To Britain

The 1938 indications are that the surplus of the Canadian chicken crop will go to Great Britain, the Department of Agriculture said. "Dressed chickens between three and five pounds weight sell most readily in Great Britain and to maintain a satisfactory export movement from Canada to that country a reasonable quantity of chickens of that weight is necessary," it said.

"Unfortunately, it is not the normal practice of Canadian producers to market chickens of that weight, but this year there are special reasons for doing so. The stocks of chickens in Canada are low, the prices for live chickens in the United States are not so attractive as a year ago and the signs in Great Britain are that there is an outlet for all the dressed poultry Canadian producers can offer."

Paris Custodian Keeps Hitler Used By King George

A Briton's offer of 10,000 francs (about $275) for the blotter King George VI. used after he placed his signature in the Golden Book of the Arch of Triumph was turned down by the chief custodian of the monument, the newspaper Paris-Sol reported. "I do not traffic in such souvenirs," the custodian was quoted as saying. The blotter was said to contain an excellent reverse imprint of the Royal signature.

Dog Visits A Veterinarian To Have Feet Treated

Paddy, Chesapeake Bay dog, owned by Mr. and Mrs. M. D. McLean of Calgary, knows when to visit the veterinarian. Taken by his owners to a veterinarian some time ago to have painted ear cankers dressed, "he now goes alone every time his ears hurt," said Mrs. McLean. "The treatment is painful but Paddy seems to know he must endure it patiently if his ears are to stop hurting him."

BRITAIN'S FOREIGN POLICY TAKING A FIRMER QUALITY

London.—Great Britain's foreign policy is taking on a firmer quality. While insistence is still laid on the theme of conciliation as a way to peace, evidence is not wanting that Prime Minister Chamberlain would resist strongly any challenge to vital British interests.

(In his review of foreign affairs before the House of Commons, Mr. Chamberlain said: "Though we seek peace, it would be a mistake to suppose we are willing to sacrifice British honor and vital British interests for peace.")

Despite the plea that the Anglo-Italian agreement should be brought into effect without delay, the prime minister declines to abandon the British prerequisite—settlement of the Spanish question, which in effect means performance as well as the promise to withdraw foreign troops from Spain.

Rapid expansion of the British air force, with strengthening of ties between Great Britain and France, has impressed Berlin deeply. Chancellor Hitler—although the report lacks official confirmation—is said to be throwing out feelers for an act under which the children of Europe would limit their sky armadas.

Great Britain and Germany already have a naval agreement. Under it German naval expansion is limited to 35 per cent of British naval strength. The Spanish situation has clarified somewhat with the unconditional acceptance by the Barcelona government of the proposal for a British commission to investigate the bombing of open towns and civilian populations.

General Franco, insurgent chief, has accepted the proposal in principle, asking for widened application of the commission's investigations to include assassinations and other atrocities. The insurgent counter-proposals and reservations are under consideration.

At the same time, London and Burgos officials are working out the details of a scheme whereby British and one insurgent naval officer would investigate charges of deliberate bombing of British merchant ships in Spanish waters.

A disquieting note was sounded in Berlin as Nazi newspapers opened new attacks on the Czechs.

The press was critical not only of the new Czech nationalities statute but also of the Czech government for permitting details of the statute to leak out.

The semi-official Diplomatic Correspondence, which reflects the views of the German foreign office, roundly declares that except for a few concessions the Czech proposals in the statute give no hope of satisfactory agreement.

Wheat Carry-Over

Expected To Be The Smallest Than Has Been Since 1925

Ottawa.—Canada will have the smallest carry-over of wheat when the crop year ends that it has had since 1925. In fact, it may be below the figure of that year. The official announcement of the carry-over by the Dominion bureau of statistics will not be made until Aug. 12, but a forecast by the bureau estimated this year's carry-over at around 26,000,000 bushels.

The visible wheat supply figures made public by the bureau gave the total of 21,773,954 bushels. This does not include the wheat in the farmers' hands, which is believed to be very low.

On July 31, 1925, the carry-over was 26,482,096 bushels. On July 31, 1927, it was up to 50,585,688 and in 1929, following the big crop in 1928, it was 104,283,321. It reached the peak in 1933 of 211,740,118. It dropped in 1934 and in 1935 was up to 203,273,016. Since then it has been steadily reduced until last year it was 32,789,552.

Asks For Information

Victoria.—Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general, now in England, called the British Columbia government, expressing "regret" at damage caused by the 100,000-acre fire at Campbell River on the east coast of Vancouver Island, and asking that he be informed of details of the blaze.

Ban Y.M.C.A. Meetings

Berlin.—Marshal Hermann Goering banned all members of the German army from attending meetings of the Young Men's Christian Association. Invitations to such sessions were branded as "interference in the army's spiritual education."

Proposed German Flight

Plan Round-The-World Trip Via Alaska And U.S.

Washington.—The German round-the-world flight for which Berlin has asked permission for a landing in Alaska and the United States will start in August or September.

In making this known, a German embassy official here said the plane would carry a crew of six. The commander will be Captain Henke, a pilot of long experience. The co-pilot will be Captain Van Moreau.

The remainder of the crew will consist of a navigator, radio operator and mechanic.

The plane is a four-motor new type Condor manufactured by the Fockewulf German company.

From Germany the plane will fly to India, China, Japan, Alaska, then San Francisco. After San Francisco, plans depend on the performance of the plane up to that time. The official said it was probable the plane would fly non-stop to New York and then try the Atlantic hop.

The Germans will not attempt to rival Howard Hughes' round-the-world flight. They characterize their flight as a series of long-distance tests.

Motor Accidents

Annual Death Toll Shown To Be Mounting

Ottawa.—Deaths from motor vehicle accidents during 1937 totalled 1,626 against 1,316 in 1936 and 1,224 in 1935, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported.

The death rate from this cause was 14.8 per 100,000 population compared with 11.9 in 1936 and 11.2 in 1935.

The deaths from motor vehicle accidents by provinces in 1937 were as follows, with figures for 1936 in brackets: Prince Edward Island, 7 (7); Nova Scotia, 83 (60); New Brunswick, 67 (41); Quebec, 405 (371); Ontario, 772 (564); Manitoba, 66 (53); Saskatchewan, 47 (47); Alberta, 55 (72); British Columbia, 124 (101).

Saskatchewan had the lowest provincial death rate from motor vehicle accidents in 1937, namely 5.0 per 100,000 population and Alberta stood next with a rate of 7.1. The highest provincial rate was 20.8 in Ontario, followed by British Columbia with a rate of 16.5.

Tweedsmuir To Take Rest

Remaining Month In England On Account Of Health

Ottawa.—Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general of Canada, will take a complete rest of at least a month before returning from England, Prime Minister King said. It was recently announced the governor-general would delay his return until the middle of September.

Lord Tweedsmuir had not been in the best of health, Mr. Mackenzie King said, explaining the altered plans, and he was afraid suggesting to the governor-general that he remain in England as long as necessary to restore his strength.

The governor-general left July 1 but intended then to return in August and had plans for a tour of western Canada. Extension of his visit and postponement until next spring of his western tour were announced some time ago but no reference was made to his health. He will probably return to Ottawa about September 17.

Ordered To Leave Italy

Correspondent For Christian Science Monitor Not Given Reason

Rome.—Paul Cremona, correspondent for The Christian Science Monitor and vice-president of the Foreign Press Association in Rome, has been ordered to leave Italy, it was learned.

The Earl of Perth, British ambassador to Italy, conferred with Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, on Cremona's behalf and obtained a promise that a temporary stay in the execution of the order would be considered. Cremona, a native of Malta, is a British subject.

Officials refused to give reasons for the expulsion order.

Savings Deposits Lower

Ottawa.—A slight falling off in notice or savings deposits was shown in the monthly statement of Canadian chartered banks as of June 30 as compared with the previous month. Demand or current deposits were increased. Both call and current loans in Canada showed increases.

Army Worm Menace

Winnipeg.—Manitoba grain fields have been remarkably free from grasshoppers, though an occasional new affliction is reported in some districts. The latest menace is known as an army worm because of its relentless destructiveness.

Waterfront Blaze

Heavy Loss Sustained When C.P.R. Pier At Vancouver Is Destroyed

Vancouver.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Company's pier "D" was destroyed by a $1,000,000 fire which for a time threatened the entire Vancouver waterfront.

Destroyed with the 1,000-foot pier and its superstructure of passenger and freight buildings was the pier-side of a ramp which leads to Grandville street, freight shed No. 3 and four box cars.

Most of the freight in the pier and shed was lost.

Value of the pier itself was placed at $500,000 and the other losses at an equal amount.

The fire was first seen as a small puff at the northeast end of the pier about 1:45 p.m. By 2:35 the great structure for its entire length was a broken mass of shooting flame and smoke.

In the meantime the steamships Princess Charlotte and Princess Adelaide had moved out, the Princess Charlotte just in time as Captain Thomas Rippon, marine superintendent, rushed from his office at the outbreak, signalled the engine-room and swung the coastal liner into the stream.

BRITAIN INTENDS TO PROTECT HER RIGHTS IN CHINA

London.—Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, warned Japan that Great Britain intends to protect her century-old interests in China.

Addressing the house of lords in a broad survey of the problems facing the government, Lord Halifax used language about Japan regarded as blunter than that of Prime Minister Chamberlain in the House of Commons.

Lord Halifax said Britain was considering "possible action" if Japan failed to respect British interests in China.

"We are quite ready," Lord Halifax said, "to consider, and already are considering, possible action open to us if we do not secure adequate consideration for interests we have a right to protect."

The foreign secretary appealed for international sincerity on other scattered fronts endangering world peace, particularly in the case of Czechoslovakia.

Quite frankly he admitted the Czechoslovak problem was going to take a "genius" to solve.

Lord Halifax mentioned the strong bonds uniting Britain and France, and had a word also to say about Italian restlessness due to the delay in putting into effect the Anglo-Italian friendship agreement of April 16 which depends upon a "settlement" of the Spanish war.

"I see no reason why such delay as is inevitable should mar the understanding which it was the principal purpose of the agreement to restore," he said.

The foreign secretary regretted the failure of the Anglo-Italian agreement to produce improved relations between Italy and France, and he said, were a necessary complement.

He denied Britain's pact with Italy was an attempt to weaken the Rome-Berlin axis.

PILOTED PLANE

Capt. C. T. Bennett, clever Imperial Airways pilot, who brought the British pick-a-back plane, the "Mercury", over the Atlantic Ocean non-stop to Montreal, to complete another chapter in aviation history. Bucking head winds all the way the "Mercury" was only two hours behind schedule when she landed on the St. Lawrence.

Marketing Act Upheld

Privy Council Decides On Validity Of B.C. Measure

London.—The judicial committee of the Privy Council upheld the validity of the British Columbia Natural Products Marketing Act.

Dismissing the appeal of a group of independent dairy men from a finding of the British Columbia court of appeal, their lordships declared it was apparent the legislation in question is confined to regulating transactions that take place wholly within the province and therefore are within the sovereign powers granted by the legislature in that respect by section 92 of the British North America Act.

The appellants were ordered to pay all costs.

In its judgment the judicial committee did not accept the view that natural products produced as defined in the act were confined to natural products produced in British Columbia.

"There is no such restriction in the act and a limited construction would probably cause difficulty if it were sought at some future time to co-operate with a valid Dominion scheme," the judgment said.

Helps Forest Rangers

Rancher Earl Takes Turn Fighting Fires In B.C.

Exeter, B.C.—Lord Martin Cecil, Canadian ranching member of a famous English family, took regular shift with forest rangers and railway section men to defend this central British Columbia country from forest fires.

Cecil, son of the Marquess of Exeter and brother of Lord Burghley M.P., British athlete, was in the first line in day and night shifts for several days.

He has ranged here for the past eight years on 50,000 acres of land with 2,000 head of cattle, and operates a guest ranch at this Pacific Eastern Railway point. The locality is also known as 100-mile house.

CORRIGAN GETS HIS PLANE BACK

The Irish government authorities, acclaiming Douglas Corrigan for his "wrong direction" Atlantic hop from New York to Dublin, have returned the daredevil's plane to him. Corrigan, 31-year-old California airplane mechanic, is shown with the plane in Dublin in this radiophoto.

Investigate Bombings

Spanish Government Accepts The British Proposals

London.—The Spanish government unconditionally accepted Great Britain's proposal for a two-man British commission to investigate bombings of civilian centres and the insurgents accepted the proposal in principle.

The original plan contemplated sending the commission to Spain if only one side agreed, but since insurgent General Franco proposed changes to widen the scope of the investigations the commission probably will not enter Spain until study of his suggestion is completed.

Richard Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs who disclosed the proposal, said the insurgent authorities wanted the commission's investigations widened to "include other assassinations and barbarities not connected with air raids."

Previously the foreign office announced that General Franco had accepted in principle Great Britain's plan for a two-man British commission to consist of a retired officer of the Royal Air Force and an artillery officer in active service.

Reaches New Record

Recruiting For British Army Has Shown Marked Increase

London.—Leslie Hore-Belisha, secretary for war, told the House of Commons that army recruiting had reached record heights in the second quarter of this year, with 11,663 men volunteering for service.

This represented a record for the April-May-June period. The army will be only 20,000 men short by its planned strength by next March if recruiting continues at this speed. Medical examinations showed 10,335 of the applicants fit for army services, compared to the 5,517 accepted for the second quarter last year.

CZECH PLAN IS CONDEMNED BY GERMAN PRESS

Berlin.—The Nazi-inspired press unanimously denounced the Czechoslovak government's newest minority plan as an evasion of the autonomy demands of the Sudeten Germans whom Chancellor Hitler is determined to protect.

Headlines showed plainly the temper in which the press received Premier Milan Hodza's proposed statute granting concessions to the 3,500,000 Germans and other minorities in Czechoslovakia.

Typical of them were:

"Scandalous disregard of German demands";

"Praha already begins sabotaging British efforts";

"No way to peace";

"Evasive manoeuvres—wholly unacceptable."

The principal German complaint was that the statute regarded and treated the Sudeten Germans as a minority instead of as a "statelet"—a people with rights and status equal to those of the dominant Czechs and Slovaks, who far outnumber the republic's Germans, Poles, Hungarians and other racial groups.

Hodza's minority statute, which would grant concessions in school administration, government jobs and the use of languages, was announced a few hours after the British government appointed Viscount Runciman as unofficial mediator in the Czechoslovak-German dispute.

Czechoslovak acceptance of the appointment was seen as a triumph for Germany by Germans who regarded Praha as yielding a degree of sovereignty.

The Lokalanzeiger and other German newspapers complained that the proposed minorities statute was full of loopholes and far less than what Sudeten Germans had been entitled to expect.

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared: "Hodza's alleged concessions are a mockery... perhaps Praha, to impress Lord Runciman, is holding up its sleeve some 'concessions' that are not concessions."

A Difficult Task

Lord Runciman Sees Arbitration As No Easy Matter

London.—Viscount Halifax, foreign minister, told the House of Lords that Lord Runciman, the mediator, was "quite understandable. You are setting me adrift in a small boat in mid-Atlantic."

Lord Halifax said he answered: "That is exactly the position."

NEW MINISTERS TO BE NAMED FOR FOREIGN POSTS

Ottawa.—While Prime Minister Mackenzie King subscribes to the policy that Canada's diplomatic service should offer careers with the object of appointment to high offices abroad it is not expected the foreign ministerial posts to be disposed of this autumn will be filled by promotion.

New ministers are to be sent to France and Brussels, and probably to Japan before the end of the present year, and a legation is to be opened at The Hague in Holland with the minister to Belgium serving there part time.

During the debate on external affairs last May Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the opposition, urged the government to adopt the principle of promoting experienced legation secretaries to the higher posts so that young men of the right type would be induced to enter the diplomatic service.

Mr. Mackenzie King said he was in agreement with the opposition leader but observed that Canada's foreign service was small and the responsibilities of a minister great.

He said it would be desirable to promote legation secretaries to higher posts, the prime minister said, "with world conditions what they are to-day a great responsibility rests upon a government with respect to the men to be appointed to the post of minister abroad."

Mr. Bennett, at that time, referred to a report that Justice W. F. A. Turgeon of the Saskatchewan appeal court, was to be appointed as minister either to France or Belgium. He declared such an appointment would be undesirable in view of Justice Turgeon's two years' absence from the bench while engaged "in political work" (Mr. Turgeon was chairman of two government commissions inquiring into the textile industry and grain marketing).

Mr. Mackenzie King replied it was "only natural that he (Justice Turgeon) should be thought of... because of his exceptional judgment and ability" and not as a reward for political services.

Need Ship Subsidies

Sir Edward Beatty Says Britain Will Have To Change Policy

Quebec.—Trans-Pacific service of the Canadian-Australasian line will be continued, but to remove the threat of foreign competition Britain will have to change shipbuilding policy, Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, said, on his arrival here in the liner Empress of Britain.

Sir Edward, back from England after discussing the building of new tonnage, said current shipbuilding costs "are considerably higher and were considered it unwise to build at the present time."

"There was no danger, he said, the Canadian-Australasian line, operating between the ports of the Atlantic and partly Canadian Pacific-owned, would be discontinued, but he admitted British shipping on the Pacific was threatened by foreign competition.

"The United States has found it necessary to subsidize its shipping," the steamship head said. "Japan's ships are heavily subsidized. It appears to me that Britain will have to change its policy from the days when it was the only great shipbuilding and shipping nation and either subsidize its builders or steamship companies or both."

Taking No Action

Government Feels Toronto Alderman's Remarks About Hitler Not Important

Ottawa.—Remarks attributed some weeks ago to Alderman William Croft of Toronto, reflecting upon Adolf Hitler, German chancellor, and with which exception was taken by Erich Windels, German consul general here, "reflected more on the alderman than anyone else," Prime Minister Mackenzie King said.

Questioned as to what action had been taken through diplomatic channels over the incident the prime minister said the government had taken stand it would not make a mountain out of a molehill. The prime minister said in the realm of international affairs "nothing is to be gained by unpleasantness."

On June 23, Croft visited the Toronto zoo and when he reached the beavers' pool he remarked the "only thing I'd put in there would be Hitler."

J. B. Graham, who had been obliged to enter hospital at Coult d'Alene while returning with his wife and Magistrate and Mrs. J. W. Graham from a holiday trip to the Pacific coast for emergent observation, recovered sufficiently to be able to return to Blairmore last week end. After a couple of days' stay with his parents, he continued on to Whiskey Gap on Monday, where he is employed as federal customs and immigration officer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Chalmers and sons, of Coleman, accompanied by the latter's mother, Mrs. J. Lawrence, motored to Drumheller over the week end, Mrs. Lawrence having spent a few weeks in Coleman with her daughter.—Drumheller Review.

Tax sales scheduled to be held in five or six different parts of southern Alberta have been postponed until November, according to officials of the provincial lands and mines department. Purpose of the postponement is to give landowners a better opportunity to pay their taxes.

Wednesday of last week marked the fortieth anniversary of the laying of steel into Cranbrook. On the morning of July 27th, 1898, Engineer Hugh Brock, on engine No. 466, entered the city limits with the track-laying outfit, and by evening the steel was laid to a few miles west of the town. It was a big day for Cranbrook, and the arrival of the steel was fittingly celebrated.

Sid Newman, South Alberta representative of Conway's Limited, of Calgary, accompanied by Mrs. Newman and her mother, Mrs. M. Edwards, of Spokane; Mrs. Lorne Hanay, of Vancouver, and Miss Hazel Brighton, of Calgary, passed through Blairmore on Friday last, returning to Calgary from a vacation spent at the coast. Mrs. Hanay and Mrs. Edwards will be guests of the Newmans in Calgary for a few weeks. Enroute, the party visited several places of interest, including Bellevue's modern and busy bakery.

The death occurred at Coleman on Friday last of Mrs. Elizabeth Milley, aged 44, wife of William Milley. Mrs. Milley had been ill about two months. She was a native of Fifeshire, Scotland, and had lived in Coleman for about seventeen years. The remains were laid to rest on Monday afternoon. The late Mrs. Milley was formerly Miss Muir. She is survived by her husband, one son, a sister, Mrs. A. Beveridge, of Coleman, and a brother, Alex. Muir, of Alexo, Alberta.

There are lots of people going to Waterton Lakes these days for a week end.

A new alibi plant is to be established in Edmonton, next to the ultra vires factory.

Reduction in prices of eastern Canada rye whiskeys and gin came into effect in British Columbia August 1st.

"I fear," the struggling dentist sighed, "that I'm a total loss. I've built a lot of bridges—but folks won't come across."

Dr. and Mrs. R. K. Lillie and little daughter returned last week end from a holiday trip through B.C. and Washington.

The weekly newspaper is the family newspaper. Over 2,800,000 people read weekly newspapers in Canada each week.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Tonge and family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tonge, were up from Pincher Creek on Saturday last.

Dr. and Mrs. T. E. Ross and son Robert, of Drumheller, are holidaying in the Creston district. Dr. Ross is being relieved by Dr. Aiello, of Fernie.

An address was given recently to a Social Credit picnic, attended by about 300 children and 200 adults, on the subject of "Birth Control and Sterilization." One lady referred to the address as being most appropriate.

It is now necessary to remit $5 to Edmonton for a permit to install toilet fixtures. What next? We would suggest as a further means of taxation the use of stamps—a stamp to be attached every time the equipment is used.

A car ran over a skunk on the highway just east of Pincher. The remains still occupy a position in the centre of the road and traffic has been considerably diverted. Even the crows and magpies have been giving the area a wide berth.

Out of close on three thousand big sale bills turned out two weeks ago by The Enterprise for the F. M. Thompson Co., not one copy has been seen flying in the gutters. The printed sheet goes into the home, where it is read, studied and preserved. There is absolutely no substitute for the "printed" sheet.

Figure out the next one yourself: A lawyer died. He had an accident insurance policy which his widow tried to collect. The insurance company said: No, you cannot collect on this insurance policy which his widow tried to collect—it is a visitation of God. So the widow took the matter up with a lawyer, who reversed the decision. He contended that any visitation of God to a lawyer was an accident.

William Innes, Grande Prairie's first bank manager, now a resident of Bellevue in the Crows' Nest Pass, is a visitor this week. It was during the summer of 1911 that Wm. Innes, manager of the Carbon branch of the Union Bank of Canada, received instructions to proceed to Grande Prairie in the Peace River country and open a branch bank. It was a momentous trip for the 26-year-old banker. Over and above the adventure of coming into a little known land, he was compelled to bring along in a knapsack a sizeable amount of cash with which to begin operations. However, he proved equal to the occasion, opened and carried on the branch till the spring of 1927, when he was transferred to Calgary. While in the north, he is visiting his brother Don at Sexsmith, and Alex. at Spirit River. Mrs. Innes and the girls are visiting friends at Melville, Sask.—Grande Prairie Herald.

On July 28rd, twenty-five years ago, a marriage license was issued to Peter Haggerty and Euphemia McGregor Small, both of Fernie.

Mrs. F. Hottle and daughter Elvira, of Calgary, paid a visit to Mrs. Hottle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Williams during the week. They were accompanied by Mrs. Harrison Langtry, also of Calgary.

Mrs. I. Radcoy, having recovered from a serious operation, is spending a few days at Blairmore.—Beadvale note in the Drumheller Plaindealer.

W. G. Walford has resigned as publisher of the Alberta Oddfellow. In future the official organ of the I.O.O.F. in Alberta will be published by W. J. Huntingford, of Wainwright.

AD (TOWARD)

VERTO (TO DRAW)

Perhaps you, also, have been forced to arrive at a rather uncomfortable conclusion from the things you have been seeing and the sounds you have been hearing recently . . . a conclusion, that many advertisers do not know—or knowing, do not remember—just what that much misused and abused word ADVERTISING means.

Our dictionary tells us that Advertising is derived from the Latin Ad (toward) and Verto (to draw). It means to DRAW TOWARD.

Comes the question: Is it possible to attract the greatest number of buyers toward a specific product by imitation, senseless ballyhoo, deceit, or quicksand reasoning? Can it be accomplished by tinging language or by pictures of beautiful feminine limbs?

To draw toward—to mean job. But a job which can be done well, as demonstrated by the scattered few who are doing it. And to do it is not complicated. It requires the certain knowledge of how much benefit the buyers can get from your product. It requires an ability to give people this knowledge in a simple, truthful, interesting manner . . . and the courage to keep telling until the stars fall.

This screed opens with the word "perhaps." With your permission we shall end it the same way.

Perhaps it might be well for us to remember that the word Advertising does not mean cleverness, trickiness, sexology, wit, art nor self-glorification. It means to draw toward.
